Southfield, Michigan based Maddin, Hauser, Roth & Heller, P.C. and two of its attorneys have been recognized in the highly respected legal research publication, Chambers USA in the area of Employee Benefits and Executive Compensation.

The announcement was made by the firm's President and CEO, Steven D. Sallen. "It is an honor for our firm to be recognized again this year by Chambers USA and for our attorneys to be acknowledged for their proficiency and client service in the area of Employee Benefits and Executive Compensation," said Sallen.

Chambers USA stated that Maddin Hauser is known for retaining "a strong reputation in the market for handling matters relating to various types of medical plans, qualified retirement plans and executive compensation arrangements," for routinely counseling "on related tax implications, corporate transactions and estate planning matters," and specializing "in assisting clients with the design, installation and termination of qualified retirement plans."¹

Shareholders Charles M. Lax, first ranked in 2009, and Marc S. Wise, first ranked in 2013, were recognized by Chambers USA in the Employee Benefits and Executive Compensation practice area for the following¹:

- Lax has been noted by Chambers USA as being “considered a leading light in the state’s employee benefits legal market” and being “particularly well-versed in retirement plan issues, while also advising on related tax and corporate law matters.”
- Wise has been noted by Chambers USA as being “a respected employee benefits lawyer who offers notable expertise in health and welfare benefit plans” and for acting “for a broad spectrum of major corporates and emerging businesses.”

Chambers and Partners has published guides to the legal profession since 1990. With a team of over 200 full-time researchers at its London head office, it identifies and ranks the world’s best lawyers and law firms based on in-depth, objective research. Chambers USA ranks lawyers and law firms on several factors and considerations, all of which are investigated by its team of researchers. Individual lawyers are ranked (in their practice area(s)) on the basis of their legal knowledge and experience, their ability, their effectiveness and their client service.
